ArcGIS has been updated to 10.4.1 on test and development with success. Will be updating production on December 9, starting at 5:00 pm
Daniel commented that she needed lots of patches when she moved to 10.4.1 production.

Arc 10.5 is available in prerelease. The FirstMap team will be evaluating it to see if that update should be done sooner than the established "wait until version.1".

ESRI has been working with the FirstMap Team doing an architecture review.

Sea Level rise data is available on FirstMap on the private side only.

Information was provided about the statewide outage that is being planned.

As always if you experience issues, please contact the team at FirstMap@state.de.us.
